FOREWORD

These are the years of growth, years in which we have grown and will continue to grow as our horizons of knowledge and wisdom stretch further and further. There is growth to be found in the learning of books and the news of the day which allows us to live each day well. Nevertheless, there is another growth to be found in the world of human experience and the warmth of the human heart which gives the first a greater meaning.

Now we have come to the completion of the dozen most important years of our lives. We've been happy and we've been sad, excited and bored; but, in the fire of enthusiasm and the peace of solitude, we have been building our lives and growing into the fulfillment of our dreams. Every autumn leaf, every spring breeze, and every smiling face, have added to the priceless wealth of our memories.

Yet, this is only the beginning. Though we must cease to grow physically, that halt can never be accompanied by stagnation of the mind: we must continue to grow if we are to fill the role that the Almighty has given each of us. Every day we are greeted by the increase of the responsibilities and duties of our advancing maturity. These are heavy burdens, to be sure; but we cannot forget that to grow is to know the hope, wonder and eternal purpose of life.

GROWTH

We, the Class of 1963, dedicate this yearbook to you, MR. PAUL K. SWEENEY. In the minds of the students at Woburn High School, you have always ranked highly; and we regret if your dignity has suffered from such occasional references as "Doc" or "One Shot." These bits of fancy are only an indication of the great warmth which we have come to feel for you because of your close association with and great influence upon the student body.

Because you have contributed to the intellectual, social, and athletic growth of Woburn High School as a gifted teacher, class advisor, and assistant baseball coach, you will always live in our memories. With this small tribute we offer you our heartfelt thanks and our hope that we have given you some inspiration to continue the very important work you do.

Paul K. Sweeney

Mr. Varoutsos has a willing audience in Mr. Foley, Miss Hurley, and Mr. Sheridan.

The "Troika" of the Math and Science Departments—Mr. Marderosian, Mr. Horrigan, and Mr. Cohen.

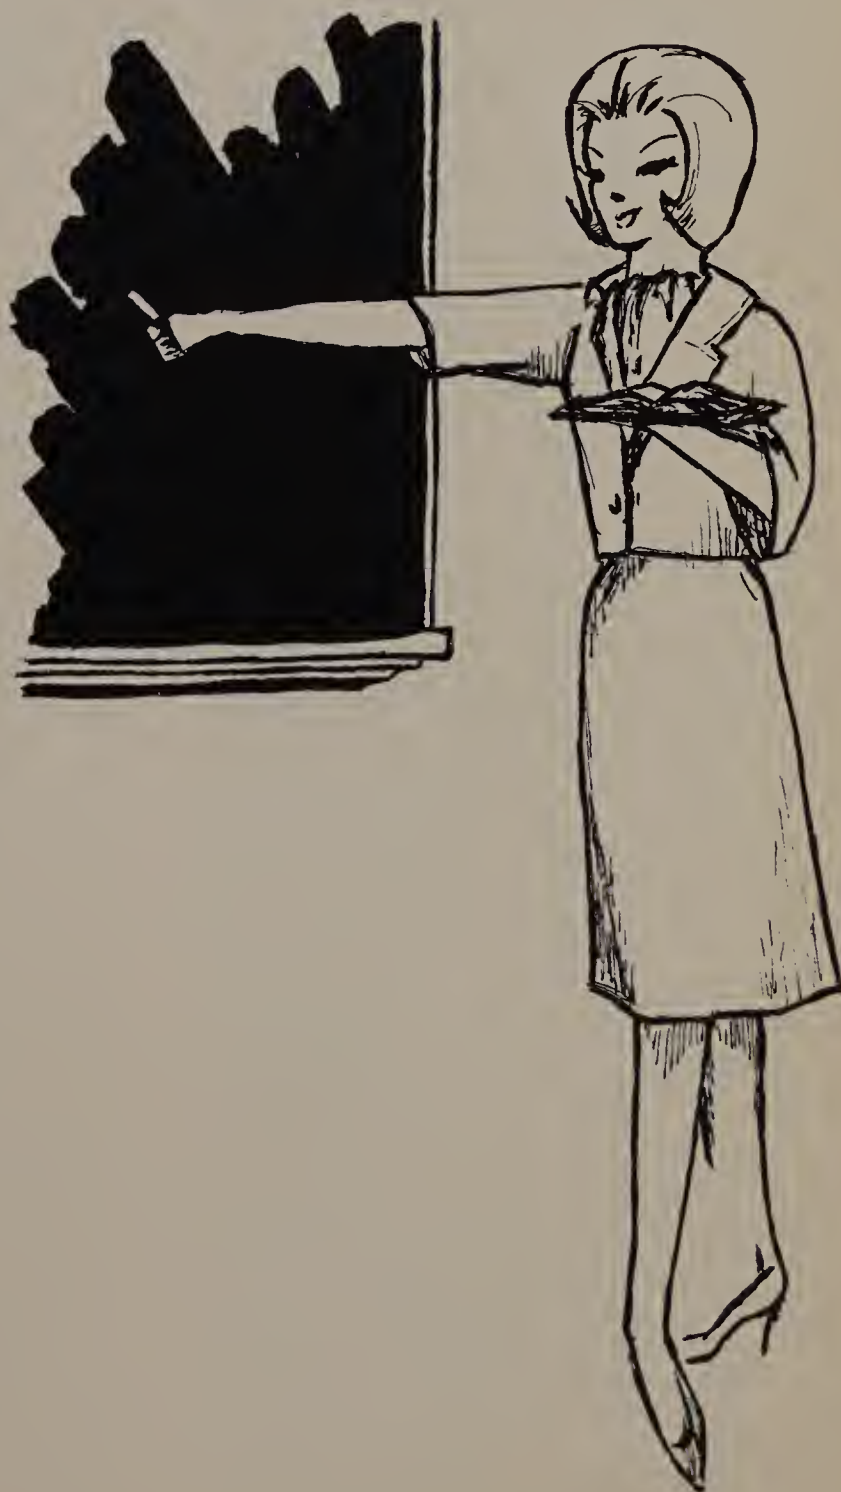

We do not grow unaided, without help. We have been fortunate that many men and women have dedicated their lives that we might grow, and grow well, guided in the straight path of life, not staggering in the darkness of ignorance. Our teachers, our administrators, and the countless other people directing the vast enterprise of education have known the trials of growth and the many lessons of life.

We hope that we have given them something in our small power to give—the satisfaction of seeing response and enlightenment—in return for an example, a light, and a firmer purpose. How often have we underestimated the excellent perpetration of this great task of education, or, perhaps, not even thought of it at all! They who know the meaning and importance of growth have given unselfishly to young minds and bodies not yet fully aware of its consequence. What possible return is there to be made for that which they have worked so diligently to give us?

Woburn's Educational Growth Continues

Characterized by education and experience, which are both long and extensive, Dr. J. Frank Hassett was graduated from the College of the Holy Cross with a Bachelor of Philosophy degree, received his master's degree from the University of Massachusetts and studied for his doctorate at Calvin Coolidge College of Liberal Arts.

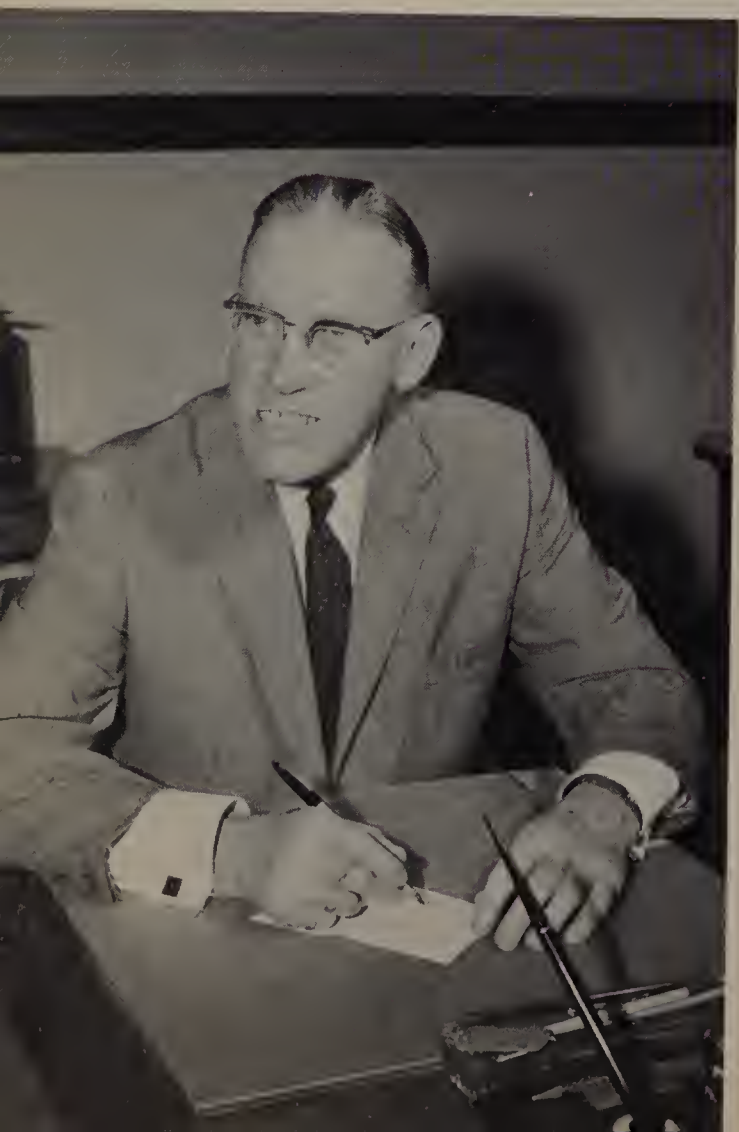

Since Dr. Hassett first accepted the position as Superintendent of Woburn Public Schools in 1945, many changes have taken place. The population of the city has nearly doubled from 19,746 in 1940 to 31,124 in 1960. The school enrollment in 1945 was 3,039 and has more than doubled to 6,299 in 1961. The number of teachers has also grown from 118 to 241. In 1945 the number of seniors graduated was 161; in 1962 there were 253 graduates. It is estimated that 425 will don graduation robes in 1964.

Without a doubt Woburn's School System has grown with the changing times and will continue to grow in the future.

Woburn High School An Organic Institution

The Woburn High School was established in 1852 in response to the educational needs of the youth of the community in the mid-nineteenth century. Shortly after the turn of the century, the school was moved from the center of town to the central section of the building which now houses the administration, guidance, and the library. In 1930 the wings presently housing the upper and lower schools were added to the structure when a combined senior-junior high school was organized. In September, 1962, the structure became solely a senior high school.

September, 1963, should witness the occupancy of the new multi-million dollar addition embracing several additional acres of education facilities.

The first one hundred years of the Woburn High School was marked by a stable, steady growth of pupil population and facilities. The past decade has been explosive in terms of growth in pupil population and facilities. From an enrollment of 565 on October 1, 1952, it has grown to an anticipated enrollment of well over 1800 in September, 1963.

Since 1951, Mr. Blake has been the guiding hand in keeping Woburn High School abreast of all current developments in public education. A graduate of Yale University, he received a Masters Degree at Boston College Graduate School and has attended Boston University and Harvard University Graduate Schools.

Growth In Guidance

It's bright! It's sunny! It has yellow walls! And even picture windows! What is it? The new Guidance Suite, of course.

As a result of the renovation of the central building, the Guidance Department, once located in that little cubby-hole on the third floor, has moved into a larger and more attractive location. There are two pleasant counseling offices, a spacious reception room, and an inner conference room.

This year the Guidance Department has also enlarged the educational information library, especially in regard to smaller accredited four-year colleges, some out of state, in which there are many vacancies existing for entering freshmen. It should also be known that many of these colleges offer excellent curricula at a very reasonable cost. There is also a continual expansion of the occupational information file.

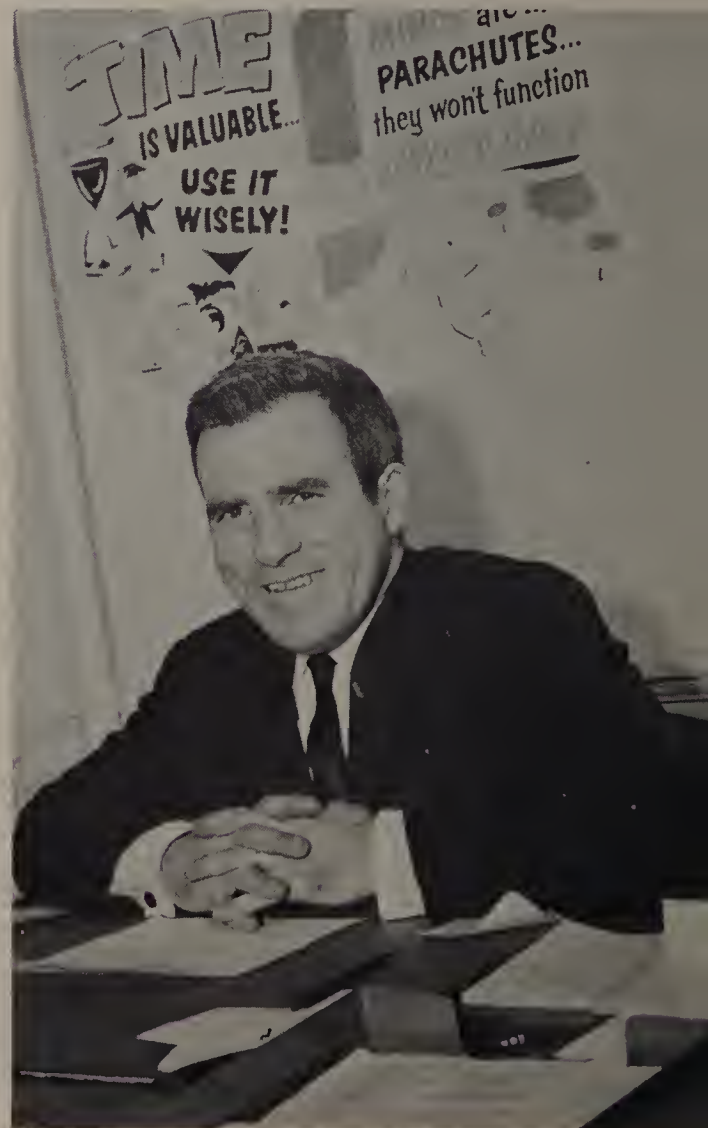

If you want some bright and sunny information, visit the Guidance Department.

Heat Wave In Art Department

Strange waves of heat have been radiating from Room 425, otherwise known as the Art Department. Upon investigation it was discovered that the source of all this heat was a new kiln. This kiln is actually an oven used in making ceramics and enameling metal.

Thus far, the students have made many interesting ceramic sculptures.

In addition the Art Department is also offering a course in oil painting. From observation it appears that the students' favorite subject is bottles—painting them, that is.

Wanted: Engineers

When you think of engineers, do you think of “choo-choo” trains? A few years ago, yes; but today engineering means electronics. As the demand for engineers broadens, so does the engineering program in our Mechanical Drawing Department. This year the pre-engineering course was centered not only on drawings pertaining to graphics but also on bringing to light specific engineering problems. Why? In order to give the growing number of engineering students a better background in mechanical drawing, an important factor in engineering. Consequently, is it surprising that a vast number of students have hitched their wagons to stars labeled “engineering”?

Business Education Acquires Beautiful, New Wardrobe

The Business Education Department is now decked out in its best finery. What does this consist of? A splendid array of new machines.

Recognizing the need for preparing graduates to meet the demands of "space-age" mechanization, the Business Education Department has been able to supply the senior typewriting classes with beautiful, new electric typewriters. Furthermore, two printing calculators have been added to the office machine room to supply students with the latest equipment in that field.

This new electrical equipment has definitely given a "new look" to this department.

Mr. Marashio has an attentive audience ???

New equipment makes typing more pleasant.

Miss Dunsford checks Cheryl's progress.

Mr. Burke conducts a review of grammar rules.

Tachistoscope, Anyone?

If almost every time you walk by Room 246, the students seem to be enjoying slides, cheer-up. Those slides are not of Mickey Mouse or Batman; they are slides of words, shown one at a time by the tachistoscope. This marvelous machine enables the student to recognize and write down the longest words, even though they are flashed on the screen for only one, two, or three seconds.

Another new machine in the reading laboratory is the reading accelerator which helps students to increase their reading speed without losing their reading comprehension.

With this new approach to reading, most students should be glad to follow President Kennedy's suggestion to "Wake up and read!"

W. H. S. Produces Recording Artists

W.H.S. is turning out many talented people lately. Among them are recording artists. Surprising? Not really. They are foreign language students who are making good use of the new language laboratory facilities.

This laboratory was recently installed to reinforce the new approach to language teaching which emphasized speaking rather than reading and writing. What equipment is used to carry out this method? Thirty booths, each with individual tapes, recorders, and earphones, provide the necessary drill.

Students may make their own recordings and compare them to the master tape. Who knows? We may find another Frank Sinatra in our class.

Mrs. Thompson supervises a recorded lesson.

Responsibilities Of Citizenship

"All men are created equal . . ." Does that sound familiar? (We'll give you a hint—the Declaration of Independence.) With current emphasis on science, there is a need of the balancing influence of a strong program in Social Studies. Therefore, at Woburn High School this year, Social Studies was required for all students from the ninth through twelfth grades. The rapid and complex changes in our ways of living have made Social Studies very necessary to the education of our growing citizens who must seek to understand and contend with the problems of society. (Or was it the Constitution?)

Mr. McNamara conducts a discussion on world affairs.

Mr. Curran's class diligently prepares an assignment.

Math Department Works In Sets

Yes, students, it has happened this year. The teachers of mathematics are working in sets. Sets of what? Why, sets like these:  $(1,3,5,7)$  and  $(a,c,e,g)$ . You see, the Mathematics Department has introduced the School Mathematics Study Group Program which approaches the subject matter from a totally modern viewpoint, part of which is known as "set theory." This program is presently being offered to selected honors groups in Grade 9 Algebra and Grade 10 Geometry. Additionally, the honors mathematics programs in Grades 11 and 12, which were previously introduced, are continuing this year. So, if you are interested in learning about the theory of sets, we proudly refer you to our Mathematics Department.

Woburn High Seeks Moving Vans

Calling all moving vans! Woburn High desperately needs transportation for the scientific apparatus and supplies to be taken to the "new building," which will be the home of the Science Department in September.

Upon completion, the addition to the high school will have science laboratories stocked with some of the newest facilities. Over the years, the Science Department has accumulated a large quantity of chemicals, biological specimens, and physics apparatus; but, at present, this department lacks adequate facilities for using these supplies as well as might be desired. Maybe they should rent a freight train!

Buttons And Bows

This year the brigade of happy home-makers could elect, for the first time, Home Economics as a full-time course. Many members of the Senior Class have taken courses in clothing instruction and family living. Most of the clothes made by these able girls have that "store-bought" air about them. The courses on family living centers itself around the young adult—her problems, her joys. The enthusiasm these girls have shown indicates that Christian Dior may have competition in a few years.

Library Rotates

Most likely, there aren't any people who have ever heard of a library that rotates. Ours does; that is, it rotates its classes. Almost every period of every day a different English class or, occasionally, another class is using the library. This is done not only to ascertain that every student knows how to use the library, but also to reveal to all students the wonderful learning contained in this one, significant room. Indeed, the library does rotate, and small wonder that so many profit by its constant activity!

Music In The Air

The Music Department, under the direction of Mr. Edson Kimball, has succeeded in creating student interest and participation in the pleasant world of music. It is through this appreciation of music that we grow to know the temperament of people from countries that we have never seen, and, in this way, become truly capable of understanding human nature.

By means of band, orchestra, glee club, and music appreciation classes, the Music Department of our school not only has added to our appreciation of music, but also has contributed to the invaluable qualities of school spirit and pride so vital to all phases of school life.

Athletic Facilities To Be Expanded

Woburn High has endeavored to give to the growing individuals of the student body both physical co-ordination and appreciation of good health. The Physical Education Department has also given to the students a comprehensive understanding of and practice in the physical skills and safety.

Futhermore, the growing population of Woburn has necessitated an extension of the present high school. Future students will have many advantages and much to be proud of in their new facilities. Within three floors the gym will contain, among many other advantages, a doctor's and a nurse's office, a corrective room, a coaches' office, and a vast, beautiful gym. It is certain that in the future the fine athletic spirit of Woburn High will be redoubled by these magnificent new provisions for the health and physical growth of the student body.

Mr. Gravey leads a class in some calisthenics.

Many years have passed since we started school, many years in which we've been taught how to increase our knowledge through books, magazines, newspapers, radio and other means of communication. In the future, the knowledge thus gained will help us to build our lives toward the goals we strive for. These fleeting years have also given us a wealth beyond compare: a wealth of human warmth and fond memories of dances and parties.

The social events of our years in school have contributed inestimably to our growth. A man cannot live by mere knowledge alone, to drown in the perilous depths of the narrow-mindedness of his own self-centered world. To grow, to be complete, he must learn to temper his opinions, laugh with others, and, most important, laugh at himself. It is then he learns that he is not alone, for he is sharing with others in the common bonds of humanity.

Class Elections

October 25, 1962

What's that? You say election day was November 6, 1962? Well, not at W.H.S. Class elections, held under the direction of the Social Studies Department, are an annual event at Woburn High School. They are held much in the same manner as state and federal elections. Would-be nominees must obtain nomination papers. When campaigns get under way, posters are hung throughout the school, and campaign speeches are delivered. Voters must register at designated places. Names are carefully checked at the polls. Official ballots are used and votes are cast with utmost care. All this is done to prepare the student to evaluate candidates and choose the one he thinks best qualified. This procedure is most effective in preparing the student for that fateful day in the future when he will be able to vote in local and national elections. Now then, when did you say election day was?

Activities

The activities of our school fill a need. They are the cause of much thought and much happiness. In the clubs are to be found people with common interests doing what they like to do. At the same time, they are asking questions and receiving answers, very important answers concerned with fields of interest in the future years.

These varied extracurricular activities demand many things of a student: interest, participation, a certain amount or type of skill, and, most important, cooperation. Here, in the sharing of interests, duties, and ideas, can be found a growth and moderation of viewpoint that will allow the students, in future years, to contribute more effectively and significantly to the world.

Student Council

The purpose of American education, as expressed by our greatest men, is to create individuals capable of governing themselves well through a democratic system. The Student Council, just as our government, serves as a means of expressing the will of those governed—in this case, a student body.

Woburn High's active Student Council has many functions as a link between students and administration. It also serves as the representative body of the whole school.

Some of the activities sponsored by the Student Council are the Mother and Daughter Banquet, the Thanksgiving Booster Dance, the Christmas Faculty Tea, and the Class Elections. Therefore, the Student Council is regarded not only as a valuable part of school life but also as a valuable training ground for democracy.

Innitou

The INNITOU takes its name from that small yet pretty expanse of water we now call Horn Pond. The staff feels that the comparison between the pond on a calm day and our yearbook is a very apt one. The INNITOU is the mirror of the work and fun that have comprised our school years.

But beneath this beautiful surface is the enormous activity of putting the yearbook together—of sorting pictures, soliciting patrons and advertisements, making attractive arrangements, typing out copy, and rushing to meet deadlines. The making of an INNITOU requires much time and effort spent in the hope that a fitting record of our school years has been made.

Tanner News

The Tanner News, which is published four times yearly, provides unique educational opportunities for all. Probably no other extracurricular activity provides so great a service to the school, for the newspaper effectively informs, entertains, and influences its readers. At the same time, each student on the staff benefits by his participation in the editorial and business activities.

The advisors, Mr. Paul Murphy, Miss Doris Lynch, and Mr. Myles Burke, are to be congratulated since the Quill & Scroll, an honor society for high school journalists, granted membership to the Tanner News this year.

National Honor Society

The Woburn Chapter of the National Honor Society is an organization whose objects are to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote leadership, and to encourage the development of character in the students of Woburn High School.

Following the example of other chapters across the country, our Woburn High School has held a series of exchange programs with our neighboring chapters and has gained information concerning curriculums, facilities and Honor Society activities in these schools.

In addition, this year there was a revival of the Honor Study Program in which Senior members enjoy an unsupervised study period once a week.

French Club

The various projects and activities of the French Club, headed by Mr. Ernest Mazzone, are aimed directly at increasing the student's skill in the language and broadening his knowledge of a foreign culture.

In student projects such as the annual French newspaper, Le Cahier, the members not only make active use of their reading and writing facility, but also, as a result of their research, make contact with the many facets of French culture and civilization, both contemporary and past.

John Navarro gives an illustrated talk on his experiences in Paris.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club, under the able direction of Mr. Anthony Feroci and Mr. Bernard Rosmarin, serves to bring about greater understanding of the special problems and culture of Spanish-speaking areas. To achieve this goal, the program of the club has included films, discussions, and speakers.

One very interesting speaker was Reverend Ernest Serino, who spoke about the Cuban situation and the refugees' problems as they reached America.

Future Teachers Of America

The Future Teachers Club, under the direction of Miss Helen Sheeran, meets two Mondays a month to explore the many interests in the field of teaching. They sponsor activities of value to the students and the teachers; one important activity is the Annual Book Fair, which introduces books of interest to the student body.

The Junior and Senior members visit the surrounding elementary schools and the junior high school every Wednesday afternoon to observe the teaching procedures in assigned classrooms. This allows the student a "front-seat" view of the latest teaching methods.

Classics Club

The Classics Club, under the direction of Mr. Jean Houde and Miss Rosemary Kehoe, meets frequently during the school year to familiarize the student members with the best in books, plays, and movies. The motto this year is, "Enjoy the best in books, plays, and movies."

The club discusses recent literary and motion picture successes; occasionally the members view current motion pictures. The club recently enjoyed a performance of "Barab-bas" in Boston.

Literary Club

The purpose of the Literary Club is to foster independent reading for enjoyment. This year the theme has been to see the world through the eyes of another. Members are encouraged to read, at leisure, about the customs, languages, geography, and history of other lands. Lectures, slides, and discussions are used to stimulate an interest in the world around us. The students have seen filmstrips of Alaska, England, and the United States, all of which have been greatly enjoyed by everyone. This year the advisors were Miss Marie Butler, Miss Mary Dunsford, and Miss Susan Hart.

Future Nurses Club

The Future Nurses Club, under the direction of Miss Catherine Herlihy, meets officially one Monday a month and another day at choice. The objectives of this club are to familiarize the members with all aspects of nursing so that they may plan their future work in the field of nursing.

In order to give the members of the Club a true picture of nursing, guest speakers are presented from all fields of nursing: school, public health, armed forces, student nurses, and graduate nurses. The members visit one large city hospital and one small local hospital each year to see doctors and nurses at work.

Student Nurse Judy Watkins, a former member of the Future Nurses Club, accompanied by a fellow student, discusses her daily routine with the members.

Hi-Teen Fashion Club

The Hi-Teen Fashion Club, under the direction of Miss Barbara Dunbury, has been organized for students of Home Economics. Its purpose is to introduce to the students the various facets of this subject. It stresses current style and fashion, proper wardrobing, visual poise, and grooming.

Guest lecturers speak on modeling, merchandising, food preparation, decorative cooking, and social etiquette. During the past two years this has been one of the most active clubs in the school.

Business Education Club

The Business Education Club, under the supervision of Miss Doris Lynch, aims not only to give Senior girls in the Business Curriculum complete education in business practice but also to inform them of the importance of social graces in achieving a successful business career. The girls, who meet every Tuesday, third period, have shared many memorable activities together. This year they visited the John Hancock Building and were shown the complicated processes which are a part of a large business firm. Miss Lynch has offered helpful advice and suggestions to those interested in business occupations.

Key Club

The Woburn High School Key Club, sponsored by the Woburn Kiwanis Club, acts as a service club, not only for the school, but also for the community.

A Christmas Party for the children at the Choate Hospital was one of its memorable activities. The members have also served as coat-checkers at the Mother-Daughter Banquet and at all school-sponsored dances.

Mr. Peter Varoutsos has been newly appointed as advisor this year; he has replaced Mr. Joseph F. Curran, Jr. in directing this worthwhile activity.

Science Club

The purpose of the Science Club is to stimulate an interest in the natural and physical sciences. These future scientists center their program around scientific movies and lectures. Eventually, by this means, the members become interested in a specific area and then select their projects for the Annual Science Fair.

The Science Fair is under the direction of the Science Club advisors: Mr. Robert Cohen, Mr. William Horrigan, and Mr. Harry Marderosian.

Art Club

The basic function of the Art Club is to provide an art experience not only for those students who take a course in art but also for those who are interested in art but are unable to fit the course into their program of study.

The club, under the talented direction of Mr. Frank Newark, has worked in a variety of media, including block printing, water color, and oils. During the year the members of the club have also done copper enameling. This was made possible by the purchase of a kiln, in which the enameling has been done.

Math Club

The Math Club was formed so that students might have an opportunity outside of the classroom to increase their understanding of mathematics and to find enjoyment in some of the mathematical ideas for which there usually is little or no class time available. The club is open to all students who are currently taking a college preparatory math course and who particularly enjoy mathematics.

Using the book One, Two, Three, Infinity as a guide, they have a variety of stimulating discussions.

The club is also a very great factor in influencing students to create math projects for the Science Fair.

Charlie speaks to a combined meeting of both Math Clubs.

Chess Club

Chess, one of the oldest games known to mankind, offers a means to many wonderful hours of entertainment and relaxation. The Chess Club, under the guidance of its advisor, Mr. Roger Grant, was formed to stimulate interest in the game and to encourage active participation. Those just learning the game may receive instruction; others more skilled, enjoy active competition.

Competition provides a learning experience for everyone, including the spectators.

Radio Club

The Radio Club, under the direction of Mr. Frank Loguidice, gives those students who are interested in radio an opportunity to obtain further experience and information through classes, discussions, and informal meetings. Code-practice sessions are held each week. Members of the club already holding their operators licenses aid the non-operators in preparing for the examinations required in order to become "ham" operators.

Band And Orchestra

The band, performing at all football games and making many public appearances throughout the school year, contributes a great deal to the extracurricular life of the school.

Exchange concerts between musical organizations at different high school have long been a feature of the various activities of the Music Department. This year, on May 24, 1963, the Andover High School All Girl Band and our school band held a concert in the new Andover High School. Next year the Andover Band will come to Woburn and the concert will take place in our new school auditorium.

The orchestra entertains at many school activities during the year, including the Senior Play, Christmas Program, Prize Speaking Contest, and Class Day.

The Band and Orchestra are capably directed by Mr. Edson Kimball.

Pep Club

Members of the Pep Club are in attendance at all Tanner football games. Through a program of organized cheering, the members lend their support to the team and create an atmosphere of enthusiasm and school spirit among the rest of the student body.

Members of the club frequently travel as a group in busses to "away" games. In this way, they assure the team of a loyal group of followers.

The advisors to the Pep Club were Miss Ruth Shribman and Miss Susan Hart.

Girls' Athletics Association

The objectives of the Girls' Athletic Association are to promote girls' athletics and social activities at the high school level and to give recognition to deserving girl athletes. During the year the members have familiarized themselves with various sports.

Among the activities of the Girls' Athletic Association have been a Halloween Party, the Annual Banquet, and the Sophomore Initiation Party.

The Girls' Athletic Association is directed by Miss Marie Seminatore.

Sports

Hundreds of articles and books have discussed the value of sports; many have praised and none can deny their contribution to the life of the school as a whole and to the growth of those individuals who participate in them.

Sports give many things to the individual that will always be of value to him. For example, a sense of team and school spirit results from knowing that the school is placing its pride in him. In addition, the student learns the skill of determining what others are thinking and planning as a course of action. Furthermore, competition teaches many lessons that will be invaluable in adult life.

In sports, the student can learn the importance of his individual efforts to a team victory. It is his efforts as an individual and the growth of his knowledge and ability that will contribute to the future growth and happiness of the world as a whole.

Tanners Win "Big Ones"

Woburn's defensive line.

The Woburn Tanners, posting a 3-5 record, suffered their poorest season under Coach Walter White. The main problem was lack of experience, illustrated by the fact that only four starting players were returning. These lettermen were Mel DuLong, Bill Lewis, and Co-captains Ed Sapienza and Richie Qualey.

Although they lost five games, their three wins were notable victories. They beat Swampscott for the first time in six years; they defeated Danvers, at the time undefeated; and they have gone down in the football annals of Woburn High as being the only Tanners team to beat Winchester three years in a row.

Hoopsters Lack Scoring Punch

The Basketball Team, led by Captain Richard Qualey, did not fare as well as was anticipated this year. The team was not expected to be a real contender for league laurels, but was thought of as being the "spoiler" in the league.

It was in the offensive phases that the Tanners seemed weakest. Defense, which is the more constant factor, contributed to the success of the team's efforts. It was the breakdown in this department that actually produced the poor record of 5 wins and 12 losses.

Attitude, which is so important to the success of any team effort, was the factor that produced the victories that were gained. Experience is gained through competition and competition pressures a player to better performances. The team's record is indicative of how costly lack of experience can be.

Fortunately, many more facilities have become available to interested youngsters at the lower age level; and since more participation and preparation naturally result in better competition, the future of basketball is very bright indeed.

McDonough Men Rebuild

Coach Bart McDonough faces practically the same situation as the one which confronted football coach Walter White and basketball coach Dick Skeffington this year—youth and inexperience. With only three veterans back from last season's Class B Semi-Finalists and Northeastern Conference Champions, Coach McDonough faces a major rebuilding task.

The success of this club will depend to a great extent on the answer to one question:—How good have been Coach Paul Sweeney's junior varsity teams that compiled a won-lost record of 22 and 3 over the past two seasons. These same boys will, in all probability, move up this year to varsity status, practically intact.

Returning veterans are first baseman Eddie Gill, and pitchers Ed Guldin and Bill Lewis. This leaves a wide-open battle for just about every starting position. If the usual spirit and enthusiasm engendered by such competition carries over into regular season play, then a winning season might not be too much to expect.

Puck Bounces Wrong Way For 1963 Tanners

The story of the 1962-1963 hockey season can, like most of our other sport stories this year, be summed up in just two words—youth and inexperience. With only two seniors on the squad, Coach Bob Connolly's ice-men were without the scoring punch essential to a winning season. Skating against veteran opposing teams, the Tanners frequently found themselves out-manned and outclassed. It must be noted, however, that at no time did they ever quit, even though they experienced a winless season with two games ending in ties.

The future looks bright. Next year Coach Connolly will have intact his first two lines of Cuozzi, Roche, and Scott; Hayes, Wright, and Lynch. Also, defensemen Nelson, Sullivan, and Bouchie as well as sophomore goalie Wayne Suchecki will be returning next year. These players and any additional talent uncovered by Coach Connolly give promise of a brighter season next year.

Harriers Have Successful Season

Led by Captain Terry Carpenter and Fred Erwin, their "one, two scoring punch," the Harriers enjoyed one of their finest seasons in recent years under Coach Austie Garvey. The Tanner's success was somewhat unexpected since few of the returning runners had any real experience. Their final record was 6-2 and their losses to Winchester and Lexington were both avenged in the Middlesex and State meets.

Trackmen Gain Valuable Experience

In their second year of competition, the Indoor Track Team posted a 3-5 record; their three losses were all the result of defeats in the relay races. The team was led by Captain Joe Maltecea, Bob Hasselbaum, and Dave Veno in the dashes; Billy Reilly in the high jump; and by Dave Cummings, Fred Erwin, and Terry Carpenter in the distance races.

Prospect for the Outdoor Track Team are fairly bright because of the experience gained by running inside during the winter months. Coach Austin Garvey's team, led by Captain Dave Cummings, will probably be strongest in the running events. If several returning members of last year's team show improvement in the field events, the resulting season could be a winning one.

Bill Reilly clears the high bar.

On The Fairway

The most significant feature about golf is that it affords the participant an opportunity to develop an activity which will have beneficial value in later life. This fact is testified to by the millions of enthusiasts who throng to the courses each year. Young and old alike are treated to the pleasures of mild competition and healthful exercise.

The boys of the Woburn High School Golf Team are moving toward these benefits while enjoying the excitement of Match Play which develops a player's individuality. Golf is one of the few sports which places a competitor completely on his own. Such competition, an excellent preparation for later life, has been pursued with delight.

Victory Over Wilmington

The Girls' Field Hockey Team, under the direction of Miss Marie Seminatore, improved greatly this year. Our team beat Wilmington for the first time in three years. They completed the year with 4 wins, 4 losses, and 1 tie. The leading scorers on the team were Linda Paulsen, Susan Spinazola, Judy Higgins, and Loretta Carey.

This season should therefore bring about many wins for these enthusiastic girls.

Class Poem

THE LONELY WANDERER

Dawn rouses the lonely wanderer
From night's warm reverie.
Through the morning's soft mists
He sees a golden ray on the forest floor
And remembers those days long past
When, cradled in his mother's warmth,
He felt the security of love.
Again he hears that soft voice
Which brought the glow of knowledge to his mind.
No more to dwell in these fond memories,
The lonely wanderer walks in silence now,
Save the cry of bird or beast
Or the moving thunder of the sea.
Yet he walks not alone, not without direction,
But looks to the tiny dots of the night sky
And knows a greater warmth and a clearer path.

AS WE GO FORTH

Twelve years have passed; they went so fast—
Here's the future, the future.
Now we depart, heavy our heart
In our leaving, our leaving.
Memories we've known, shared as our own
While knowledge we were gaining.
Our lives will glide, memories will guide
As the future comes.

Dear Woburn High, we say good-bye
Now forever, forever.
You, in your might, showed us the right;
This we'll follow, we'll follow.
We will succeed; God's grace we need
As we go forth tomorrow.
Old friends we part, new lives we start
In the years to come.

Herein find memories of the past, the fun of the present, and the treasure of the future—the Seniors. Here find the tall and the short, the blond and the brunette, the gay and the quiet. Here find the clear eyes and wisdom of youth.

Among the Seniors of this beloved school are examples of the many kinds of people who form a world, each one adding his skills to turn the great wheels of progress, be they scientific, mechanical, or artistic.

Each has a story to tell. But the greater story is not yet told; it is a story of hope and beauty, of people going places and doing things. The Seniors have been growing for many years; now they must leave to build the future.

A TELEPHONE JOB

OFFERS BOTH CAREER

AND SOCIAL SATISFACTION

WITHOUT BREAKING STRIDE,

why not graduate from high school to the Telephone Company? You'll love the friendly young people who'll work with you, and the many social activities that make your work so pleasant and rewarding.

OPPORTUNITY IS EXCELLENT

and your ability will be recognized. Your starting salary should climb with regular increases. And, of course, Company benefits, security, and regular advancement are well-known reasons why working for the Telephone Company is so attractive to graduates.

TELEPHONE JOBS ARE IMPORTANT,

vital to the effective communications of the community, the nation, and the world. When you take your place as a respected member of the telephone community, we'll train you, on full salary, even without previous job experience.

Why not come and see our employment interviewer soon . . . before you graduate? Ask your Guidance Counselor to tell you when and where to apply.
